

JOSEPH KEENEY OF TENNESSEE

In the book, GREENBRIER PIONEERS AND THEIR HOMES, Ruth Woodson lists this land transaction: JOSEPH KEENEY - land in Washington County, Tennessee, 1777; land grant, 1820 acres in Cooke County, Tennessee May 25, 1810.

Family Bible records indicate that Michael, Moses and David Keene, who lived in the Muddy Creek section of Greenbrier Co., had a brother Thomas, who went to the mid-west, and a brother Joseph. This Joseph would have been born in about 1765.

Land records show that Joseph Keene lived in Anderson County, TN in 1802. He had three sons: JOSEPH KEENEY, JR., b. ca.1790, WILLIAM KEENEY, b. ca.1795, and MICHAEL KEENEY, b. ca. 1797.

WILLIAM KEENEY was married to Elizabeth Dunams (or Dunham). Their son JACKSON H. KEENEY was born about 1819 in Anderson Co. He married Mary Ann "Polly" Mabry on March 9, 1843. He died during the 1870's.

WILLIAM J. KEENEY, son of Jackson and Polly, was born in September 1849. He married Angeline Overton on 9-11-1869 in Anderson County and died there on 8-9-1921.

PARALEE (Pearl) KEENEY, daughter of William and Angeline, was born in 1824 and married Earl L. Warwick 3-18-1911 in Knoxville. She died 11-10-1924 in Cincinnati, OH. Their son, William Paul Warwick, born 9-25-1911, married Kinnie Mae Allen in Milton, FL 4-1-1934. They reside in Sedro-Woolley, Washington.

Evelyn Frances Warwick, a daughter, is married to Frank Harold Williams (6-25-1955).

This is the Heiskell, Anderson County, Tennessee home of William J. "Billy" Keeneey 1849-1921, in about 1908. "Billy" was a son of Jackson H. Keeneey and Mary Ann Mabry, a grandson of William Keeneey & Elizabeth Dunams, and a great grandson of Joseph Keeneey (b. ca. 1765). "Billy" is standing alone at the right corner of the fence. Others, left to right, are: son Columbus and wife Lizzie Fraker Keeneey, son Joseph Fulton "Creed" Keeneey holding son Irwin, Hattie Lowery (Creed's wife), daughter Florance Keeneey, daughter Paralee Keeneey Black, and (on the fence) Robert, son of Columbus, and Morace Black, son of Paralee (called Pearl).

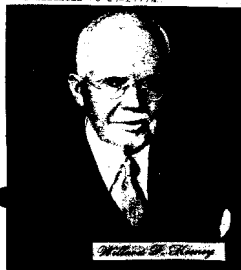

KEENEY, Willard Franklin, lawyer, was born in Arcata, Ill. Jan. 25, 1862, son of Daniel and Rhoda Ann (White) Keeneey. His father was a farmer. Willard F. Keeneey attended public schools in Grand Rapids, Mich., and the University of Michigan, where he took academic courses. He was in 1879-80 and studied law in 1881-82. He then read law in the office of Roger W. Butterfield (1883) in Grand Rapids, was admitted to the bar in 1883, and became a clerk in Butterfield's office. He formed a partnership with his former teacher four years later under the name of Butterfield & Keeneey and continued in this association until 1919. In that year the name of the firm was changed to Butterfield, Keeneey & Amberg with Roger C. Butterfield, one of the co-founders, and Julius H. Amberg admitted as partners. Keeneey remained an active member of this firm until the close of his life. He practiced before all courts including the Supreme Court of the United States, engaging in a general practice. He was an attorney at law under which the Michigan Trust Co. was the first firm in the state, was organized. He was also considered an authority on timber laws throughout the country and assisted in the organization and financing of many lumber firms. At various times in his career he was president of the Gastoos River Timber Co. and the Clinton Lumber Co., and was a director of the Grand Rapids Club Co., Grand Rapids Savings Bank, Peoples National Bank, and the Senecaum Timber Co. Keeneey was a member of the Grand Rapids Board of Police and Fire Commissioners from 1903 until 1908 and a Trustee of the Grand Rapids Art Association from 1921 until his resignation in 1941. For forty-one years he served as president of the Grand Rapids High School Scholarship Association, which awarded junior college students to continue their education at the University of Michigan. Keeneey's religious affiliation was with the Park Congregational Church, Grand Rapids, of which he was a trustee. Politically he was a Republican. He made a hobby of painting and his recreation was golf. Married to Margaret Morton, a daughter of James Madison Morton, on November 10, 1897, Keeneey was the father of three sons: Willard Franklin, Morton, and Roger Butterfield.

Willard Franklin Keeneey died in Grand Rapids, MI on July 12, 1946.

SUPPORTERS

After the 8-page issue in March, there was some question of finance, since postal service required 39¢ for each envelope. But you came through. Keeneys are coming out of the woods from coast to coast. Many thought they were members of a small family. No more!

Some wonder why we don't sell subscriptions. Frankly, we'd have to charge too much for the "old timers", whose interest is high and income limited. It's those $20 bills from the more prosperous (this happens about once an issue) that keeps us going.

Continuation of KEENEY UPDATE still depends on news and records contributed by YOU. If it is printed or neatly typed single-space, its' chance of being printed is greatly improved. Pictures of KEENEYS, or direct KEENEY descendants born before 1900, are much wanted.
