Handley Baptist Church

HANDLEY WEST VIRGINIA 26028

Please endure some personal notes since you're getting 8 pages this time. After 28 years of teaching and professional offices both state and national, I changed professions this year, being ordained as an American Baptist minister in February and enjoying my first full-time assignment in November. I love it, but it puts a cramp in my practice of drifting from state to state on genealogical adventures...the past year alone to Oregon, Kentucky, Ohio & Nevada...but the snow just go on and when I can't handle it I'll have a host of excellent researchers in mind to take over.

Handley is larger because (A) I've waited years for professional historians that don't come and (B) there's too much here to keep in filing folders. Meanwhile, I'm holding back a host of stories you have sent me - much from New England and much that show up in the Westside Keeneys. They'll be printed, provided this issue is paid for - the printing is a real double. And the postage is almost double. So I'm asking those who gave $5 more than two years ago to respond - not you folks who have already gone the second mile. I'm keeping the old address, to avoid confusion, but my telephone is 304-442-0285.

FRIDLEN L. WARREN & JANE KEENEY WARREN

THE FIRST KEENEYS IN GREENSBRIER COUNTY, WV

On 15 April 1794 John Keeney patented forty acres in the Greensbrier region, near Augusta Co., Va. This unbroken wilderness began to be settled about that time; the earliest settlement, onuddy Creek, was wiped out in the Indian massacre of 1763. About 1765 some daring settlers returned, but not until after the Battle of Point Pleasant (1774) could they be safe from Indian raids. The army of Gen. Andrew Lewis had hacked out a road to the Kanawha Valley and it became a wagon road in 1782.

In 1770 this area became Botetourt Co., in 1776 Montgomery Co., in 1778 Greensbrier Co. The Keeney family arrived by 1775, perhaps after several trips by father John. The oldest son of his 7 sons was 20 in 1770 and surely there must have been some daughters.

Rev. John Alderman, pioneer Baptist preacher and minister, settled nearby west of the settlers and baptised many of them, including Catherine Jane Keeney, wife of Richard.

During the Revolutionary War son Jonathan was a soldier and Michael, Thomas and David furnished supplies. Meanwhile the father had acquired another 375 acres. In 1789 he was granted 170 acres (in 1824 by son David) and 113 acres (sold by him and Catherine in 1795). In 1793 John and Catherine, recognizing advanced age and citing "parental affection", deeded to their two youngest sons, David and Moses, the 353 acre "uddy Creek settlement. The sons were "to maintain" them. Witnesses were John Matthews, John Vincy and Simon Shoemaker, a neighbor.

Children of John & Catherine Keeney included these sons: JONATHAN (b.12-28-1790), who went to Tennessee by 1775, and whose family spread to Iowa, Missouri, Oregon and elsewhere; MOSES N. (1755-1832), married Mary Sampson in 1781 and lived at Fort Atkinson; MICHAEL (1761-1790) married Catherine Lewis; THOMAS B. (b.1764), DAVID (b.1765), married Pentina Wallace -4-1778 and MOSES, father of the Kanawha Co. Keeney clan (1766-c.1840), married Frances Harris. The YOGES KEENEY family is listed in detail in 2,587 KEENEY RELATIVES, published 1978.

WED WITH LOVE & A FEATHER BED

(From Kentucky to Kansas)

Mary Jane Keeney, b.4-8-1832 in Somerset, KY, a daughter of Henry A. Keeney (1798-1870) and Elizabeth Waddle (1801-1880) Keeney, was married September 2, 1850 to Friderick Warren (b.9-23-1826, d.5-10-1912), after "a courtship which didn't cost the groom a cent, and while the wedding was not of the procession order, it was an affair of considerable social importance, for the bride owned her feather bed, made of feathers she had picked herself, and put into a tick her own hands had spun. They rode off on horseback next day to their little one-room house on a piece of rented land, ten miles away, and their furniture consisted of the feather bed and a box for a table. They had a few eggs, raised some corn, and with the money Warren earned as a hand on a river boat, they got along and were happy. They needed a son to help the father earn the living, but instead, girl after girl came until there were 8. Then there were two boys and another girl: Mary Martha, Sarah Elizabeth, Catherine, Ferlina, Ellen, Eliza Jane, Lucy, Nanny Helen, Minnie Perkins (pronounced Ton-ni-by by the father), William Franklin, Matthew and Margaret Frances.

They lived in the Atchison, KS area until 1869, when they moved to Rock Castle County, where they lived 27 years. Warren taught himself to read & write and made a particular study of the Bible. He joined the Baptist church at 18, was awarded clerk, then deacon, clerk of the Baptist association, and finally ordained into the ministry. Church services lasted two days, Saturday to talk "business" and "deal with the disorderly", and receive new members and Sunday for preaching. Mr. Warren never earned more than $8 a year preaching.

When the Warrens left Kentucky, they brought tobacco along, and were in despair as this ran out. Mary Jane cooked a pipe and could have never raised the 11 children without the comfort she got from it. By 1908 the Warrens had 55 grandchildren and 32 great grandchildren.

NANCY KEENEY MONTGOMERY

MARY KEENEY, second child of Michael & Catherine Lewis Keene, was born in 1783 in Greenbrier County, died in 1866 at Kanawha Falls in Fayette Co., W. Va. where she is buried. She fell in love with Capt. Henry Montgomery when she was 17 and he about 35. He was born in Ireland in 1765, son of James (killed in 1775 in a colonial attempt to take Quebec) & Huldah Montgomery. Nancy & Henry returned to Greenbrier Co., where she decided her share of her father's estate to an uncle, George Lewis. For a time they lived in Sways Valley at Hurricane Creek, but sold their land and moved to Kanawha Falls, where they occupied a large cabin and had 75 acres of land, which they had purchased from John Huddleston. This tract became known as Montgomery's Ferry. In 1820 Henry was granted a patent for Gov. Thomas Randolph of Virginia to 50 acres of both sides of the river, giving him complete control of the ferry, which stayed in operation for 100 years. Their home was a stopover for wayfarers. They were buried in an old, now abandoned cemetery at Kanawha Falls, but in recent years their graves have been designated by a granite slab bearing a bronze plate with the inscription, "Near Ancestors of the Montgomery Family in the Upper Kanawha Valley. Henry died in 1852."

Since the children of Nancy & Henry were 9th generation Keeney offsprings, their listing will begin with the number 9.
